

DEPARTMENT OF MANAGEMENT
Spears School of Business

Assistant Professor for Legal Studies in Business

Department of Management
Spears School of Business
Oklahoma State University – Stillwater, Oklahoma

Tenure-Track Faculty

Position: The Management Department in the Spears School of Business at Oklahoma State University invites applications for one tenure track position in Legal Studies at the assistant professor rank to begin as early as August 2022.

Candidates should demonstrate an interest in and a capacity for both conducting high-quality scholarly research and working with colleagues, as well as a high level of teaching competence. Assistant professors are given minimal service assignments and course preps as well as summer support to allow them to focus on their research programs. Salary and teaching loads are commensurate with a R1 comprehensive research university. Our preference is to hire research active faculty members with a 2:2 teaching load (12 credits).

Qualifications: By Fall 2022, candidates should hold a JD or an LLM from an ABA-accredited law school. Membership in a state bar association, previous experience teaching law at the university level, a history of scholarly research and publications, law review membership, and an undergraduate degree in business and/or an MBA degree from an accredited college or university are highly desirable. The successful candidate will be able to work in a collegial environment.

Application: The following requisition (Req10052) is at Posted Status on the OSU Jobs Site (<https://jobs.okstate.edu>). Applicants need to upload a letter of interest, CV, and contact information for three references. Applications should be submitted by October 8, 2021, to ensure full review, though the position will remain open until filled.

About our Department: The department currently has 18 tenure-track faculty who consistently publish in premier research journals. Our department was ranked in the Top 20 in the TAMUGA rankings in three of the last four years with a 5-year average rank of 26th among all management departments in the country. The Legal Studies faculty conduct research in the department and maintain a Center for Legal Studies and Business Ethics that supports the university mission for ethical leadership. In addition, members of our faculty currently serve as Associate Editors or on editorial boards of leading journals. Management faculty teach at the undergraduate, masters, and doctoral levels. For more information about our group, please visit our web site (<http://business.okstate.edu/management>).

About OSU and Stillwater:

Oklahoma State University is a land-grant institution committed to excellence in diversity and inclusion. In concordance with the OSU commitment to DEI, we strive to maintain a welcoming and inclusive environment that appreciates and values all members of the University community. Learn more about our commitment to diversity, equity & inclusion here:

<https://diversity.okstate.edu/>.

Stillwater is a growing community consistently winning awards for best places to live, most recently in Money Magazine. It is about a 1-hour drive from both Oklahoma City and Tulsa. The addition of commercial air travel, wide availability of gigabit internet, and the newly opened McKnight Center for the Performing Arts enhance Stillwater's vibrant culture. The cost of housing is roughly 80% of the national average. The Spears School of Business is housed in a new state-of-the-art facility which opened in January of 2018.

Oklahoma State University, as an equal opportunity employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws regarding non-discrimination and affirmative action. Oklahoma State University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all individuals and does not discriminate based on race, religion, age, sex, color, national origin, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, disability, or veteran status with regard to employment, educational programs and activities, and/or admissions. For more information, visit <https://eeo.okstate.edu>.