NOVA SOUTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SHEPARD BROAD COLLEGE OF LAW

Location: Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Start Date: 2023-2024 Academic Year

Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad College of Law (NSU Law) invites applications for two entry-level or mid-level full-time, tenure-track faculty positions for the 2023-2024 academic year. NSU is classified as a research university with “high research activity” by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. NSU is 1 of only 50 universities nationwide to also be awarded Carnegie’s Community Engagement Classification, and is also the largest private, not-for-profit institution in the United States that meets the U.S. Department of Education’s criteria as a Hispanic-serving Institution.

NSU Law is looking for candidates with outstanding academic credentials who demonstrate potential for teaching excellence and for a high level of scholarly achievement and community engagement in the following subject-matter areas: Civil Procedure, Environmental Law, Constitutional Law, and Health Law. Qualified applicants in other, related subject-matter areas may be considered. We especially welcome candidates who will enrich the diversity of our faculty; these candidates include women, historically underrepresented minorities, persons with disabilities, LGBTQI+ individuals, veterans, and others whose backgrounds, experiences, and viewpoints enhance diversity.

As an institution committed to diversity, NSU Law welcomes applicants who will enrich the inclusiveness of our institution through race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, disability, age, protected veteran status, and other experiences. NSU Law seeks a faculty that reflects the diversity of South Florida’s community.

NSU Law is an Equal Employment/Equal Educational Opportunity Institution. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against because of their protected status.

Interested candidates should send a cover letter and CV to lawfacultyapplicants@nova.edu. Candidates may also direct questions to Olympia Duhart, Associate Dean for Faculty Development and Chair of the Faculty Appointments Committee, at olympia@nova.edu.