

Social Work with Immigrants and Refugees

Legal Issues, Clinical Skills, and Advocacy

Fernando Chang-Muy, JD
Elaine Congress, DSW, Editors

Fernando Chang-Muy and Elaine Congress, highly acclaimed authorities in social work and immigration, combine the expertise of leading professionals in the field to discuss the legal and practical issues faced by social workers who serve immigrants. Topics discussed include current trends, policy and advocacy methods, and the need for cultural competence. This comprehensive book will guide social service professionals and students to develop more cultural sensitivity and work more effectively with immigrants.

Key Features:

- Covers the latest aspects of the immigration debate and discusses how social workers are affected by emerging immigration policies
- Discusses special populations such as refugees, elderly immigrants, and victims of international trafficking
- Includes case studies on issues immigrants face: legal processes, physical and mental health issues, employment difficulties, family conflicts, and more
